One Million Additional Degree Holders by 2025

6.9 Million New Yorkers With No College Degree

Students Face Real Challenges . . .

SUCCESS

I wish all my professors had been as effective at teaching online as the best of them – I feel like I would have learned more…

COMPLETION

I need some extra help to make online work for me

COMPLETION

It will be tough for me to finish my degree because of the costs (e.g., textbooks)

COMPLETION

I need to take courses from another SUNY school at a distance…

ACCESS

The degree I want isn't offered online by any SUNY institution

SUCCESS

I want to combine the flexibility of online and hands-on learning opportunities

ACCESS

I'm not sure what online degrees SUNY offers / it is hard to find the right program for me

A cross-system collaboration to create initiatives and services that support campuses and faculty in enhancing online-enabled education to improve student access, completion and success
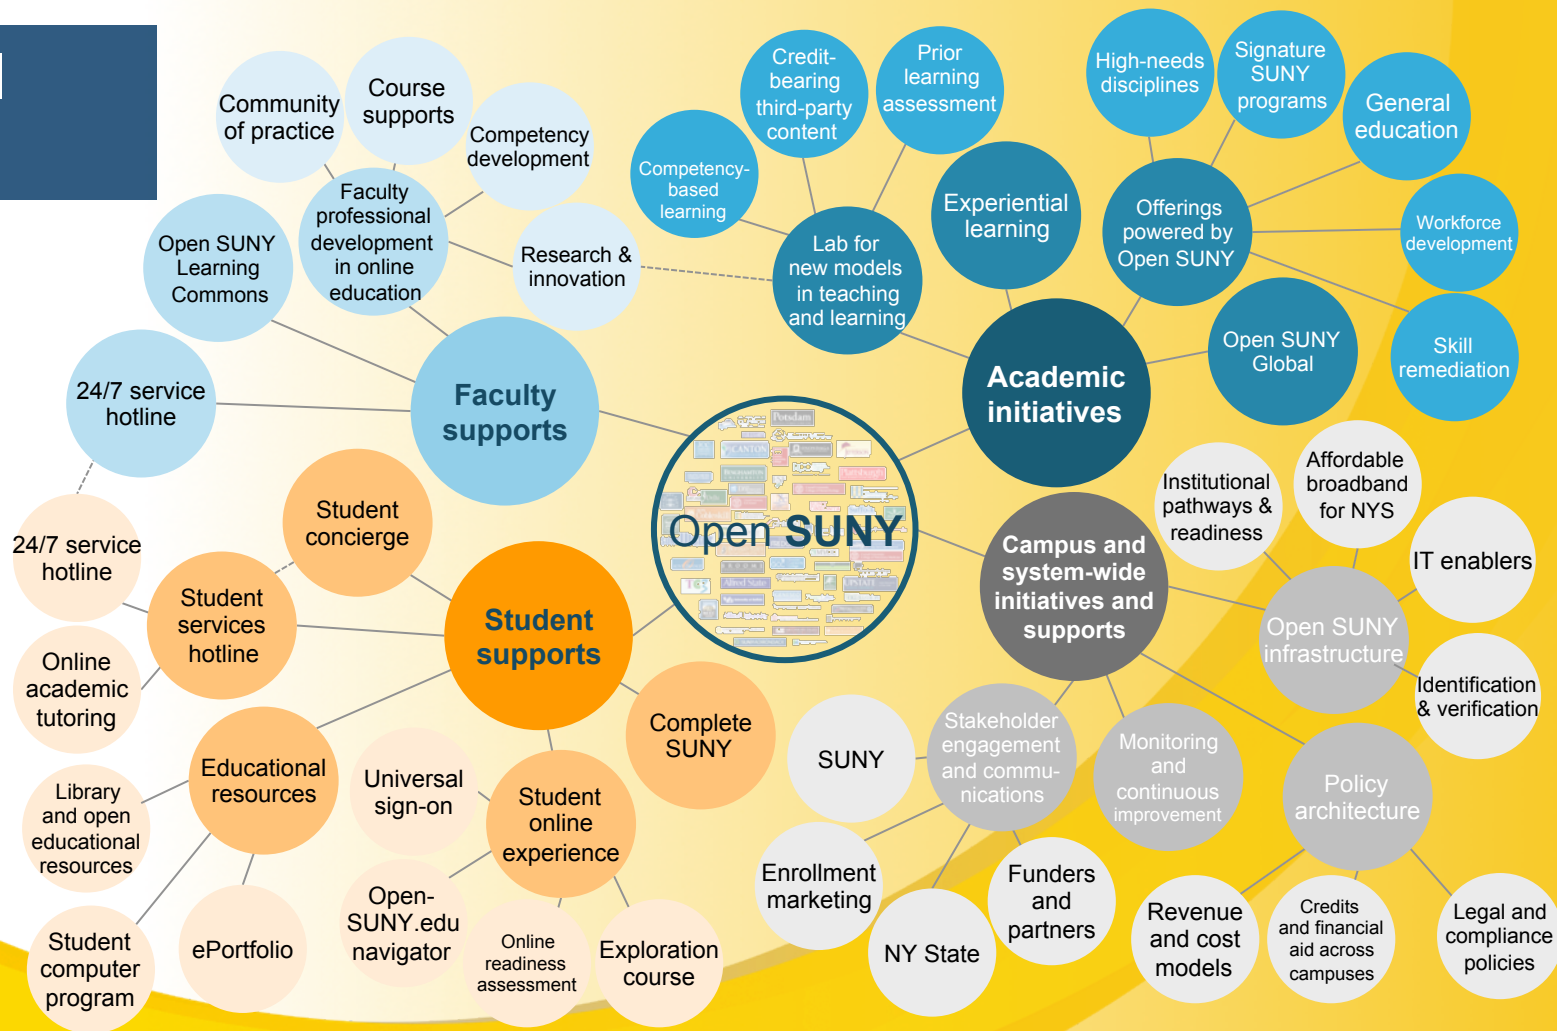

Open SUNY WILL…

- Be a set of initiatives and services

- Enhance our joint capabilities and offerings in online-enabled education

- Acknowledge and build upon successes and ongoing efforts of your campuses

- Provide attractive opportunities for campuses while respecting their autonomy

Open SUNY WILL NOT…

- Be a new campus or serve as a degree-granting entity

- Change the authorities of Presidents or other campus leaders

- Alter, undermine, circumvent or otherwise change existing governance processes or models

- Establish a set of mandates for campuses or faculty to conduct online education
