

2019 Region South Conference Center for Worker Education, CUNY Monday, April 8th, 2019

Review of the day:

The Region South Conference had over 60 CEANY members attending from various CUNY and SUNY schools. Co-Chairs Christine Zagari-LoPorto and George Rosales welcomed everyone to the event.

CEANY President Jill Pippin Dean of Extended Learning for SUNY Oswego spoke a bit about the CEANY association, events, webinars and the upcoming Annual Conference in November, which will be held at the Crowne Plaza, White Plains- a quick train ride away from NYC- so perfect for our regions south members! President Pippin also mentioned our FREE to members CEANY Webinar.

Keynote Speaker, Stacy Woodruff, Managing Director, Workforce Field Building Hub, Workforce Professionals Training Institute presented on the Workforce agenda for NYC and how it pertains to ALL those working in Higher Education and Workforce Development!

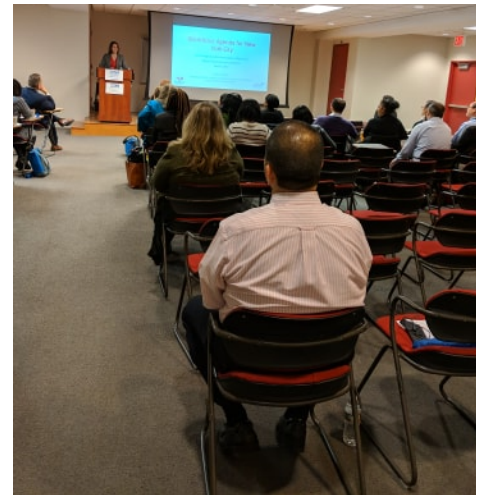

Check out the reports that were referenced here:

- Reenvisioning the New York City Workforce System (2013)
- Career Pathways: One City Working Together (2014)
- Workforce Agenda for New York City (2018)

Following lunch, attendees had a choice between two Workforce Professional Institute Trainings, one titled Developing Strategic Employer Relationships, where attendees were able to learn about the job development continuum and how to effectively understand employers' needs, get new business, and begin to build loyalty among business customers.

The other workshop, titled Leadership Development, which was a highly interactive session designed for mid-level and senior managers, and taught the attendees about the three important dimensions of success: results, process, and relationship (RPR).

Overall, the Region South Conference was a huge success and we hope that all of the attendees found value in attending and we look forward to seeing everyone at the Annual Conference!
